Comprehension:

Read the following passage and answer the questions given below:

As cricket fever sweeps the nation, restaurants and cinemas are bracing for a surge in revenues and full houses this Sunday when India takes on Australia in the cricket World Cup final. Eateries are pulling out all the stops to make the most of the high-stakes event, with special menus, discounts, and games planned alongside the match. A restaurant in Delhi is already fielding calls from eager fans trying to book a spot in advance. "Everybody at the restaurant is excited because India is in the final. We are putting up massive LED screen at many points in the unit, which will make it a lovely destination to enjoy the match in a group."

Another restaurant in Gurugram's Cyberhub is offering a 15 per cent discount to customers who come in wearing the Indian cricket jersey to the screening and will also have a dhol waala on the spot. The sponsors created excitement not only for consumers but also for the team. We witnessed a massive jump in footfall during all the World Cup matches and needless to say that all India matches were housefull.

We are expecting a 100 per cent rise in footfall over usual Sundays, and queries have already started pouring in since last Friday. A rise of 100 per cent in revenue on the night of the World Cup final is also expected.

Eateries in Mumbai are organising "Powerplay at the Dining Table", where patrons can predict team India's runs during key overs and savour victory with exclusive dishes.

Embrace the sporting spirit as you cover the cost of your wagered item if luck doesn't swing your way.

The restaurant is also offering exclusive desserts for the occasion: 'The King Kohli', a tart shell filled with caramelised white chocolate ganache, and roasted macadamia nuts, topped with a coffee mousse, and an almond and cocoa sponge, vanilla bean mascarpone cream, and 64 per cent manjari dark chocolate mousse, all encased in a red glaze.

Cafe C is offering exclusive match-day deals of 3+1 on soft drinks. "We aren't sold out, but we are getting reservations at a high speed for the screening on Sunday. We are expecting a 30-40 per cent increase in revenue on the day."

A cinema chain, too, is hoping to recreate a stadium-like atmosphere for fans by screening the final match at its cinemas in more than 45 cities. "Since the second semifinal between Australia and South Africa was held on November 2016, we opened advances for the finals only late Thursday night; over 45 per cent advance tickets have already been sold out our theatres," says the executive director.

"This will be a grand festival taking the thrill of the World Cup to newer heights. Fans can enjoy the unlimited refills of popcorn and soft drink while cheering for India," adds the director.

Assam, lying between 89° 42' E and 96° E longitudes and 24° 8' N and 28° 2' N latitudes, occupies the central location in north-east India. With its western border directly connected to West Bengal, the State is also regarded as the gateway to the north-eastern States. During the epic period, the State was known as Pragjyotisha. It meant, 'the land of eastern astronomy'. Subsequently, the State came to be known as Kamarupa as testified to by the Allahabad Pillar Inscription of King Samudragupta. This name remained in vogue till about the 12th century CE. From the 13th century CE the State came to be ruled by the Ahoms. According to some scholars, the State owes its present name to them. However, going by another interpretation, the State may have drawn its current name from the Sanskrit word asoma, which means 'peerless' or 'unparalleled'. The Ahoms remained in power for about six hundred years. Thereafter, the State passed into the hands of the Burmese. However, the British seized it from them through the Treaty of Yandaboo signed in 1826 CE. Finally, the State was incorporated into the Indian Union. The present State of Assam, covering an area of 78,438 square kilometers, mainly consists of two extensive river valleys: the valley formed by the River Brahmaputra and its tributaries in the north; and the valley formed by the River Barak and its tributaries in the south. Between these two valleys run the long range of hills (Karbi, North Cachar and Barail), which account for much of the State's greenery and wildlife. It is because of this unique topographical feature that the State is also known as the 'Land of Red River and Blue Hills'.
